From the Desk of the Principal

Kia ora Sara Cohen whanau,

As you may be aware, New Zealand is now at COVID-19 Alert Level 3 immediately, with a move to Level 4 on Wednesday at midnight.

Sara Cohen School and all NZ schools are closed for four weeks from Tuesday 24 March for all students, apart from students whose parents are designated essential workers.

As of midnight Wednesday 25 March, New Zealand moves to a Level 4 Covid-19 Alert. Essential services remain open, including access to supermarkets, doctors, pharmacies, service stations and essential banking services.

In terms of schooling and learning, instead of face to face delivery, we will be sending out to parents the CLP goals and activity sheet for you to support your child to work on these goals. Staff will also send out resources and activities for you to work and play with your child. These will include cooking recipes that they have done in class, job skills and arts and crafts.

Students and families will be contacted by their teachers by email and seesaw in the coming days regarding what our programmes will look like for your child.

Our students and staff are resilient and resourceful and with our strong whanau support we will all get through this.

Regards

Matthew Tofia and the Sara Cohen Staff
